

Realtors' Forum

The cost of construction in India is expected to go up substantially in 2024. Let's see what industry stakeholders have to say on this...

RAVI RAMESH PILANI
MD, Pilani Realty

“While you can't entirely avoid rising construction costs, there are strategies to manage them and get the most value for your budget. Project planning will be the key and getting competitive bidding from the contractors and to find creative solutions that maintain quality while reducing costs. This could involve material substitutions or optimising designs.”